how does it work?

How does Wills Fortnight work?

For two weeks in September Ford Simey, Gilbert Stephens, Kitsons and Tozers – solicitors based in offices across Exeter, East and Mid Devon – will waive their simple Will making fee in return for a donation to FORCE Cancer Charity.

Whether as an individual; a couple; on the property ladder; just married; separated; starting a family or wanting to secure your grandchildren's future – making a Will is often reassuring and can be simple. It is your choice how you want your money spent and who it can help. You decide.

You can make your appointment from 29 August 2017 onwards and during your meeting you can discuss with the solicitor what you would like in your Will. Should you need specialist advice your solicitor will quote a separate price for any additional work.

The suggested donations are £150 for a single will and £200 for a mirrored will. The donation will be made at the solicitors office at the time of the appointment and will go directly to the charity. Please complete the donation form, which the solicitor will give you during your appointment, and make cheques payable to 'FORCE Cancer Charity'.

leaving a lasting gift

By utilising this Will service we must stress that there is no expectation for you to feel obliged to leave a gift in your Will to FORCE. However, for those of you who have expressed a wish to do so, please read on.

A gift to FORCE allows us to plan long-term, future projects which will be of benefit to all those affected by cancer in our community. These projects could, for example, relate to supporting research, purchasing equipment, developing outreach programmes across Devon and expanding the Support Centre Services in Exeter.

Every bequest that FORCE receives is very precious and is very much a gift of hope for the future.

If you are inspired to leave a gift and would like to learn more about our work, why not arrange to visit the charity and find out more.

how your donation will support FORCE

FORCE Cancer Charity believes that anyone affected by cancer deserves the best possible treatment and professional support close to home and face-to-face.

Since 1987 the charity has been funding local research and buying equipment to improve patient care at the Royal Devon & Exeter Hospital.

In 2004 FORCE opened a Cancer Support and Information Centre in the grounds of the RD&E. The Centre is for people needing physical, emotional, psychological and practical support at a difficult time in their lives. The Centre receives around 25,000 visits a year. It has a well-stocked library and information nurses on hand to help with questions and offer advice. There are counselling services for individuals and within support groups, including for children and young people, plus complementary therapies, exercise guidance, relaxation and mindfulness sessions, a benefits advice service, help to cope with hair loss and a wig fitting service. FORCE also offers support and information sessions once a week in Tiverton and Okehampton with plans to offer a service in East Devon.

All of FORCE's services are free of charge.

Since the charity was founded it has spent well over £8million on support, equipment and research.
